

Nomination for CPMEC Junior Doctor of the Year Award 2022

VICTORIA – Dr Calvin FLETCHER

Dr Fletcher is a PGY2 at Alfred Health and currently working with emergency department directors of training to ensure ultrasound vascular access tutorials are integrated into intern rotations to ensure all JMOs have training in this skill, with a train-the-trainer model for longevity.

As Education Chair (2022) and Education Officer (2021) for the Alfred Resident Doctors' Society, Calvin surveyed JMOs to identify barriers to attending virtual, due to COVID-19 pandemic, intern and hospital medical officer education sessions. Feedback ensured dedicated spaces were available to attend these teaching sessions at off-campus hospitals.

Due to the pandemic, Calvin created online interactive modules with the Alfred Department of Anaesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine directed at Year 3-5 Monash medical students. This year Calvin presented online interactive modules created with the Department to the Monash Medicine Education and Curriculum Committee with the aim of ensuring access to tertiary hospital teaching resources in all metropolitan and rural clinical schools.

Calvin was the curriculum lead for the anaesthesiology, cardiology and geriatrics portfolios in the JMO Victoria Curriculum Working Group in 2022.
